

Waves of the Ocean of Bliss

- Sri Rajesh Raina

Sometimes deep and calm

Sometimes clear and pure

Sometimes plain and sweet

Waves of bliss touch our heart in myriad ways

All the time, they ring a bell and call

Awake to the call of Divine in the heart

Yield to it for the balance itself seeks you

That seeking is the thread of life, the life in life

Let the life in life, pull us to the homeland

Destination, so far and yet so near

Be guided in thoughts, words and actions by these waves

Waves that originate from the beloved Master's heart

The mystery will be solved if one cares to follow
And be guided by the Master's waves
And remember this life is his to use
